Player's to Give Four Showings of Shaw's 'Candida'

Concentrated French Course Introduced

Foreign Language department announced that beginning next fall a new course would be offered to students during the coming summer. This course will give credit for three quarters of work in this language.

Students will take only this class which will meet three hours a day. The course comprises a full summer session. The new class is the first attempt in such a concentrated course of study at Eastern and in many ways it will be similar to programs of study in languages which proved successful in the Armed Forces during the war years.

The course is designed to be applicable to students who wish to complete a year of foreign language before beginning their regular college course of study, and also to elementary teachers who have an interest in incorporating foreign language in their elementary curriculum.

According to Dr. Elizabeth Roeslein, who will be teaching the course, the aim is to give the student a working knowledge of the language, using the oral-aural approach in the teaching of the language. There will be frequent use of records; films with French dialogues will be used in the class giving ample chance for drill and a means of developing comprehension of the language.

It was emphasized by Dr. Roeslein that "this would be a course for anyone wishing to gain a language requirement for an advanced degree."

Students wishing more information about this course should contact either Dr. Guinagh or Dr. Roeslein.

Students Crowd Placement Office Interviews

The first of the year, 260 student interviews for teaching positions have been held in the placement offices. During the interval of time, business and industrial concerns have held student interviews, chiefly for the B.S. and B.A. degree holders, for possible employment in work other than teaching. This was the heavy month for school administrators from all 50 communities called in to the office looking for teachers.

Teachers and re-registrants are signing contracts at a rapid rate and placements are running ahead of the same date last year.

Pi, Sig Tau Win at Spring Carnival

The Spring Carnival, sponsored by the Sigma Sigma social sorority, provided a night of carefree entertainment, prizes, and fun for all.

The Pi fraternity won the most original booth and the Sigma Tau Gamma received the most money presentation. The winners for the night were Mrs. Peterka, Dr. and Mrs. Synchom, Dr. and Mrs. Synchom, who also served as judges and Mrs. Johnson.

Tootsie Toss

Barb Wolf (left) and Marilyn Copeland put their best foot forward for Tri Sig spring carnival goers to ring. The booth was set up by the sponsoring sorority.

Roeslein, Cutlip Picked Head Aide, Marshal

Twelve junior aides and marshals were chosen in last week's election to lead the procession at commencement exercises. On the ballots were 92 girls and 89 boys.

Pre Registration Schedule Released

Students now in school who expect to return next year should plan to pre register beginning Monday, May 6, according to the following schedule:

Next year's graduate students and seniors—May 6, 7, 8.

Next year's juniors—May 9, 10, 13, 14.

Next year's sophomores, unclassified and special students, and all students not included in the above classification—May 15, 16, 17, 20, 21.

In order to pre register, students must present their yellow registration sheets. Class cards will be pulled for registration day next fall. Pre registration will take place in Old Aud at 8-11:15 a.m. and 1-3 p.m.

Clare Roeslein received the most votes for junior aide, while Fred Cutlip was top vote-getter for junior marshal.

The other five junior aide honors went to Carolyn Blaine, Barbara Owens, Carol McCann, Laura Ann Gray, and Ann Norris.

John Keiser, Jerry Newman, Don Stewart, Charles Limp, and John Peterka were also named as junior marshals.

The first election of student marshals to guide the classes and the faculty to their seats were chosen from the senior class in 1926. Some years later the present custom of selecting six men and six women from the junior class to serve as "marshals" and "aides" was begun.

All juniors having a 2.6 grade point average were eligible to serve in this honorary capacity.

The use of junior aides and marshals is only one of the many 'extras' that have been added to the original commencement exercises. In the beginning there was no formal procession, and no academic costumes. The year 1925 was the first at which caps and gowns were worn by the graduating classes.

Eastern Coed to be Conference Queen

Eastern's Varsity club will sponsor a contest to select seven Eastern coeds to represent each of the seven teams that will compete in the IIAC track, tennis, and golf meets, to be held here May 24 and 25. From these seven entries, an IIAC spring sports queen will be chosen.

Any girl currently enrolled at Eastern is eligible to compete in the contest. Petitions must be submitted for each contestant in the contest. It must include the entry's signature and at least 20 other student signatures. Petitions may be obtained at the student activities office from Dr. William Yardley today. They must be signed and returned to

Dr. Yardley by Monday, May 13 at 4 p.m.

All petitioned entries must appear before the judges in Peh hall either Monday at 5 p.m. or Tuesday at 1 p.m. The girls are advised to wear usual school clothing when they appear.

The committee that will choose the seven girls is composed of representatives from the Varsity club and the Student Association. From these seven winners, the Varsity club will bestow the honor of being the IIAC spring sports queen. The queen, as has been the custom, will represent Eastern, the host school. The remaining six coeds will comprise the queen's court.

Hart, Meadows, Wayne Take Lead Roles in Annual Production

"Candida is a play especially adaptable to being presented 'in the round' and its plot is as up to date as when it was written in 1890." These were the comments of Dr. E. Glendon Gabbard, director of next week's presentation by the Eastern players.

A shy, sensitive youth, Marchbanks, played by Dick Meadows, comes into the home of an English preacher and falls in love with his charming wife. He insists that she make a choice between her husband, a Christian Socialist clergyman, and himself, setting the stage for a thrilling performance.

Lyons Introduces Status-Changing Bill for Eastern

A bill to change the name of Eastern Illinois State college to Eastern Illinois university was introduced in the state senate last Thursday.

Author of the bill is Senator Robert Lyons of Oakland. A similar bill for Western Illinois State college was introduced by a Maccomb legislator.

If the bills pass, presumably the Teacher's College Board, which controls the four state colleges, would retain control of them for at least another two years. Later, according to a report in the Decatur Herald, it is expected the schools would have separate boards as does Southern Illinois university and the University of Illinois.

A bill has already passed the senate and is before the house to change the name of Northern Illinois State college to Northern Illinois university.

Both Normal and Southern were given university titles by the 1947 legislature.

Bloodmobile Visits Here Next Week

The Red Cross bloodmobile will be at Lantz gym on May 13 and 14, from 1 to 7 p.m. Students and staff members who are able to donate blood, will find registration cards in the offices of Dr. Yardley and Dr. Ruyle, and in all the dormitories.

Blood is urgently needed, both for direct transfusions and for processing into blood derivatives which are used in surgery and in the treatment of certain diseases, such as measles, mumps, nephrosis, and hepatitis.

These derivatives must also be stock-piled for civil defense. It is estimated that a fourth of those who died at Hiroshima might have been saved if plasma and other derivatives had been available.

The need for more blood has been increasing for the past several years as more uses have been found for blood derivatives.

Sheila Wayne plays Candida, a woman who has found that she can always manage people by engaging their affections, and she does so without the least hesitation.

Larry Hart plays the Reverend James Morell, of the Church of England. Both he and his wife are in their thirties, but this does not deter the intentions of the 18-year old Marchbanks in his pursuit of Candida's affections.

In supporting roles, Larry Curran plays the Reverend Alexander Mill, Morell's curate. Burgess, played by Guy Thompson, is a sluggish man, softened by over-feeding and commercial success. Jean Goodrich plays Morell's typist, Prosperine.

Hart, a senior from Pruett, and Sheila Wayne, a junior from Jewett, are both speech majors. Meadows, a junior from Olney, is also a speech major.

Sheila Wayne and Larry Hart have both appeared in many other play productions. Mrs. Wayne has been seen in "Abie's Irish Rose," "The Hostess of the Inn," "The Trojan Women," and "Death of a Salesman."

Hart has appeared in "Death of a Salesman," "Love Rides the Rails," "The Crucible," and "Time Out for Ginger."

The first presentation of "Candida" is scheduled for 8:30 Tuesday, May 14. The other three performances will be on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday also at 8:30.

Students will be admitted on their rec tickets and prices for adults will be 40 cents for general admission and 70 cents for reserved seats. The play will be presented in Lantz gym.

According to those present at rehearsals, watching this play from 'in the round' provides an intimacy that almost embarrasses the spectator as he looks on.

Annual Cecilian Concert Sunday

The Cecilian Singers, under the direction of Mr. Maurice Allard, will present another of their annual spring concerts Sunday afternoon.

Cecilians, having approximately 80 female voices, will sing 12 selections ranging from the religious "Adoramus Te" and "Were You There?" to the ever-popular "Hi-Lili, Hi-Lo."

A select, 12-member choral group will perform between the three groups of songs by the Cecilians.

Traditionally held on Mother's Day, the program will begin at 4 p.m. in Lantz gym.

Literary Contest Winners To be Listed Next Week

The winners of the Sigma Tau Delta-News literary contest will be announced in the next issue of the News.

McCarthy's Death . . .

Brings Loss of a Fighter

With the death of the controversial Senator Joseph McCarthy last week, America lost it's most fierce Red fighter of modern days.

The junior senator from Wisconsin died Thursday in a Naval hospital from hepatitis at the age of 48.

Senator McCarthy, whose undaunting and radical hatred for Communism led him into many bitter debates, was in the midst of a feud with President and Mrs. Eisenhower over Washington social protocol when illness struck.

In recent years McCarthy's outspoken manner has led him to controversies with the Army, a condemnation by the Senate, and other run-ins, but his line of thinking never wavered. His opinions were so intense against Red activities that his methods of conquering Communism became a threat to American freedom. Thus, insofar as methods were concerned, McCarthy was thrown on the same side of the fence as that system he hated so.

His methods were not good examples of democracy in action. In fact his half-truth accusations were a slap in the face of the American principles he claimed to be upholding. Yet, only in a country like the United States could Senator Joe McCarthy have lived and raved. His undemocratic actions were borne from democracy itself.

There have been and there will be more eulogies from his friends and enemies alike in the press. Somehow in most publications, politicians become greater after death. But the fiery independent Republican senator from Wisconsin would want none of this. His manner was too direct to be reversed by sympathy.

'Globe' Claims . . .

Beaver's Death a Dam Shame

There will be many puns about Joe Beaver's fate. Joe is the plucky, hard working amphibious little rodent which worked himself into an early grave by trying to dam up the ship locks at the McNary Dam in Oregon.

Just about the time he got the locks plugged up good with saplings, debris and mud, they would open up to let a ship through and the rush of water would carry away Joe's engineering project.

First Joe tried to dam the lock from the up-stream side. When that failed, he tackled the locks from downstream. That effort, too, was a succession of heart-breaking failures. The other day attendants found Joe's body floating in a shallow pool alongside the guardwall of the locks. He had worked himself to death trying to do the impossible.

Now, some people will dismiss the incident by saying that Joe was just a too eager beaver anyway. Or that he made a damned good try, or that his industry wasn't wasted by a damsite.

However, we don't believe this is an occasion for levity. Joe the devoted toiler, trapped by his own instinctive desire to do a good job, reminds us uncomfortably of the treadmill that much of the world seems to travel on today.

Somehow, we believe the story would have had a better ending if Joe's instincts had learned to distinguish between ship locks and the fresh-water streams he had tamed before. Or if his homemade dam of gooey mud and saplings had actually gummed up the works on that multi-million dollar man-made monster of steel and concrete.

Our sympathies lie with that hard working beaver and we think his untimely death was a dam shame.

Charleston Needs . . .

To Donate More Blood

Unless more blood is donated during the current Red Cross drive than has been received at the last two blood collections, Charleston is in grave danger of losing its membership in the Red Cross Blood bank.

If such a situation does arise, patients in this area would be forced to pay up to $45 a pint for blood from commercial blood banks.

The financial aspects of this would be serious enough, but even at such a cost blood would not always be available when needed. Students and faculty members alike are urged to visit the Bloodmobile at Lantz gym May 13 and 14 and ease the existing emergency.

THE SOUNDING BOARD

Kougeoures Favors Streetcleaner's Day

by Sofia Kougeoures

A short time ago, I took it upon myself to enlighten the readers of this borrowed space to a few injustices of neglect. I think the time has come once again to ascend the pulpit and expose a few neglected objects of society that receive no merit whatsoever.

The first pertinent problem I wish to deal with is that of simplicity. Very few people are impressed with simple things, but tend to acclaim those of a more complex nature for the mere reason that they don't understand complicated matters. A flamboyant example is that of vocabulary.

There are many classified as belonging to the upper brackets of the intelligentsia merely because they use ten-syllabled words—but we never understand what the person is saying. Now, this to the masses, is intelligence because we are impressed by complexity. But we fail to appreciate the person who can tell us exactly what he means in a brief, concise, simple choice of words that can be understood by all. Intelligence should not consist of not being understood, but should, instead, consist of being able to be understood by all, including the street-cleaner.

And speaking of streetcleaners, who appreciates this poor neglected member of society? Just imagine what condition Kansas City would be in today, if it weren't for the lowly (and I hate to use such a derogatory adjective in connection with such an indispensable boon to humanity) street-cleaner—why, heavens, the mere thought should make us all shudder.

But does anyone ever leap up from his chair, pound his two pudgy little fists vehemently on the table, and say—"By dingy dongy, we should have a "Street-cleaner's Day" to coincide with "Mother's Day!"

Why, of course not, because we're all too busy appreciating other unworthy subjects.

Another neglected event is May Day—May Day has come and gone, but very few of us were fortunate enough to receive a good old-fashioned May basket. When I was but a mere youth, I worked for days on end feverishly thinking of new type baskets to make.

But today the art of May Day baskets is fast becoming an obsolete project. Just as someday our legs may fast wither away, if the rapid rate of mechanization continues at its dizzying pace.

Now this next subject is one of the utmost importance—but has been sadly misconstrued by columnists who don't seem to understand the situation. The subject is that of Archbishop Makarios. This man has been labeled with nasty accusations as inciting rebellion when he has no right to do this, since he is a church leader.

But few people realize that while Makarios is a church leader, it is also his duty to uphold the dignity and needs of his people. No one ever reprimands George Washington, "the father of our country," as being an impertinent rebel, and yet in a way, he is or was in about the same boat (on the Delaware, that is) as Makarios.

I'll conclude this bit of writing on this much sought-after machine with a few brief comments. "Hooray, for good old Jessie Wilson and long live the oracles of Delphi!"

As I'm roughly being pulled away from my machine (and my sanity) a few words for the week will conclude this space:

"One should never criticize unless he has the facts, man, the facts."—Disillusioned

Teamster President Indicted; Dulles Assures NATO of Deferral

by Frank Pialorsi

Dave Beck, international president of the Teamsters Union, was indicted last week by a federal grand jury on two counts of income tax evasion.

The first count stated that Beck and his wife listed only $540 as due in income taxes in 1950 when the tax actually had been $56,420.

The second count charged that Beck also assisted in preparing a false tax return for the Teamsters' joint council No. 28 building association in 1950.

Beck's arrest was ordered by Judge George H. Boldt and a warrant was issued immediately.

A special grand jury probe has been called for the handling of the Grimes sisters murder investigation.

In a house speech in Washington last week, Representative Michel of Illinois said: "I believe strongly that the best interests of the people of Chicago and Illinois would be served if a special grand jury were convened to look into the handling of this controversial case by all the officials concerned. Coming in the wake of other mishandled medical examinations in the Peterson-Schuessler and Montgomery Ward Thorne cases, it would seem to me that some positive action should be vigorously pursued."

Michel charged that there had been no cooperation among the official agencies concerned in investigating the Grimes case.

The United States has assured its Atlantic allies it intends to carry out all 1957 defense plans. Secretary Dulles told the foreign ministers of the North Atlantic treaty organization that this was the personal decision of President Eisenhower.

Dulles said the President instructed him to tell the 15 nation council no changes whatsoever are contemplated in American plans given to NATO last December. This means that the U. S. will not follow the recent example of Britain which is cutting its forces in Europe and will reduce its forces by 50 per cent in the next five years.

Dulles also warned NATO allies that Russia is in the midst of a propaganda campaign to prevent the west from improving its defensive position.

"It would be folly to weaken our defense only on the basis of soviet promises," he said. He also pointed out that there must be adequate control and inspection to verify and check the fulfillment of Russian disarmament promises.

Konrad Adenauer opened a session by challenging the Union to match West German pledges of 1954 not to produce atomic, bacteriological or chemical weapons, and to accept strict permanent control of all armaments.

Shah Pahlevi of Iran and his wife Soraya inaugurated a new railroad in Iran last week. The railway was paid for by the United States.

About 200,000 spectators attended the ceremonies. The new line links the northeast corner of Iran with the Persian gulf.

It took 20 years to build the 580-mile line at a cost of $100 million dollars.

One of the chief purposes of the line was to bring the shrunken Meshed within easy reach of the grims. More than a million grims are expected to use the railroad each year.

The death of Senator Joseph McCarthy brought various expressions of sympathy from friends and enemies. The Wisconsin Senator died last Thursday of acute hepatitis. This malady, which causes death. Spoken from the Bethesda Naval hospital, he declined to go beyond the twice-daily bulletins in discussing his illness.

In London a government spokesman has recommended a two-week compromise wage offer for 700,000 workers called off a day strike last month to avert the verdict of the three-day board.

The board presented three alternatives: A flat raise of $1 a week subject to a one year freeze and a union pledge to end restrictive practices. Or, other, a flat raise of $1.19 a week without any strings attached.

High School Press Conference Held at Eastern Saturday

Get an education no matter what the cost" was the advice Edward Lindsey gave visiting high school students attending the Delta Epsilon-News press conference held at Eastern Saturday. Lindsey, who is the editor of the Lindsey-Schaub newspaper, was the main speaker at the conference.

Fifty students from surrounding area high schools attended the press conference which was designed to aid the students in their work on school publications. President Quincy Doudna gave the opening address welcoming the visiting high school students to Eastern. This address followed the registration of the students which was begun at 9:30 a.m.

Following the general session, various roundtable discussions comprised the program for the rest of the day. These problems were connected with high school publications.

Among the discussions were: Editorials—James Garner, editor of the Warbler and associate editor of the News, spoke on the content and style of editorials, the editorial page, and other related problems. Columns—Larry Gorn, who writes the Sounding Board, and Frank Pialorsi, who writes the World News column, spoke on replacing gossip columns with constructive and well-written material. Editing yearbooks was discussed by Norman Catt, assistant editor of the Warbler and J. W. Oglesby, editor of the Warbler.

"Miracle on Your Doorstep," a movie produced by the Minneapolis Star was shown at the beginning of the afternoon session in the Library lecture room.

In the afternoon newspaper makeup was discussed by Russ Herron, editor of the News and president of Pi Delta Epsilon and an Hesler, assistant director of public relations for Eastern.

Business and financing a newspaper were discussed by Warren Wry, Business Manager of the News and Norman Catt. Dr. Francis Palmer, adviser to the News and Warbler met with the advisers of the visiting schools.

Jack Ryan, next year's editor of the News, Sofia Kougeoures, copy reader of the News and Dean Nugent, associate editor of the News discussed the various phases in gathering and writing news.

Lynn Kruger, Avise Mendenhall, and Fred Cutlip led a discussion on writing feature articles.

Russ Herron, editor of the News and, Harold Snyder, sports editor of the News discussed sports writing.

Muchmore

by Mike

This week's column is partially an epitaph. The "green goose" is dead. Bob Dill has triumphed at last and is now looking toward larger challenges.

Yes, the car that carried me so faithfully to Kansas City has gone its last mile. I would bury it, but the hole that I would have to dig would be just too big.

Mr. Dill now levels his sights on the records that Curt Perry has been establishing with his big yellow "Caddy."

Fishing season is here and the old "pros" are exchanging favorite methods of attracting the swimming delicacies.

Perhaps the most unusual way has come from a lad who prefers to remain unnamed. It has come to our attention that said fisherman has found that by throwing his shoes overboard he can attract the fish.

Whether you liked him or not cannot dim the fact that Senator McCarthy's death has robbed the world of one of its greatest fighters and a man who stuck by his convictions in the face of great odds.

His passing away does leave one unanswered question. Did we get rid of the 57 card carrying communists that he thought he had found in the state department?

A gentleman who reads my column, yes, I finally found the one, is in need of help. He would like to find someone who thinks he can write a song of the "pop" variety.

If you are the one, give us a yell.

If the state legislature passes the speed limit bill (whoops-bill) it will pose a new problem.

The 10:30 hours will have to be lengthened five minutes to permit lawful travel.

It Must Be Spring

The blond cutie in the tall grass seems to be enjoying the newly found spring weather and no doubt the photographer enjoyed his job, too. Bev Wood, a junior from Sullivan and a Panther cheerleader, is the subject.

Another proposal that is facing the lawmakers this session is that one which would change Eastern to a university. This might not be a bad idea for it might be just what is needed in order to stop some people from calling it the Charleston normal school.

Panthers Win Third Straight Track Meet; Winnie Brown Sets Record, Ties Another As Cindermen Reign as Champs

Fleet Winnie Brown, the New Orleans flash who is fast becoming the top sprinter in Eastern's history, set a 220-yard dash record of 21.1 seconds and tied the 100-yard dash mark of 9.6 as the Panthers strong cinder squad outclassed the state schools of Illinois in winning the State college track meet for the third consecutive year at Carbondale last Saturday.

Brown topped the old mark of 21.4 seconds held jointly by Jim Johnson of Normal in 1932 and Don Payton of Southern in 1937. Winnie tied the 24-year old mark of 9.6 which was held by Johnson as he paced the Panthers who scored 65½ points to second place Normal's 58 points.

Other Eastern winners were Bob Parrish, Dave Fields, Ken Christiansen, and Ray White. Parish took the 220-yard low hurdles in 24.4, Fields threw the shot 45' 10", Christiansen high jumped 5' 10", and White went 23' 3½" in the broad jump.

Other Panthers who placed in the meet were Gossett in the javelin, Dougherty in the pole vault, and Milholland in the broad jump (second places); Fox in the 100, Harvey in the two-mile, Fisher in the shot put, (third places); Knowles in the 100, Lillard in the 880, White in the low hurdles (fourth places); and Rexroat who placed fifth in the discus.

Fields' winning toss in the shot was 45' 10½" while Bob Parrish defeated Nunally of Normal and teammate White in the low hurdles in a time of 24.4, which is .3 of a second off the meet record.

Parrish, who normally runs behind White in the low hurdles, topped his running mate for the first time last Saturday.

Eastern scored its most points in the broad jump where White and Milholland finished one and two, with Parrish copping fourth place for a total of 11 points in the event.

Golfers Continue Losing Streak; Meet Western

Eastern's golfers were defeated by both Southern and Northern in a double dual match at the country club last Saturday. The total points for teams were Southern 12, Eastern 0; Northern 17½, Eastern ½; Southern 6½, Northern 5½.

Eastern's ½ point was scored when Dee Lindenmeyer matched Northern's Mike Spinello at 40 strokes on the first nine holes. Spinello is considered one of the top golfers in the conference.

The scoring:
Larry Hintz (E) 49-45-94
Andy Barnett (S) 39-39-78
Jack Seyring (N) 39-41-80
Don Leighty (E) 44-46-90

Panthers Give Runs; Drop Three

Eastern's baseball team won their first conference victory of the 1957 season while losing three last week. The Panthers handed Northern their first loss and lost a doubleheader to Western last Saturday.

Against Northern the Panthers lost the first game 14-5 to Larry Gentry and came back to win the second game 12-4 for their first conference win of the season and second in two years.

Roger Kratochvil went the entire game for the Panthers yielding seven hits while Eastern's bats banged out 18.

Eastern banded out 28 hits in two games. Bob Heiney had five hits in nine trips and teammate Bob Jachino had five hits in 10 trips.

Northern	034	231	100	—14	12	2
Eastern	100	202	000	—5	10	7
Northern	010	003	000	—4	7	4
Eastern	002	036	01x	—12	18	3

Western Illinois scored a host of unearned runs as the Panthers continue to "give away" runs. The Panthers lost both ends of a doubleheader.

Net Team Beats Washington As Winning Streak Continues

Eastern's young tennis squad, fresh from victories over Millikin and Washington U. (St. Louis) last weekend, will meet Concordia of St. Louis on the road Saturday and Indiana State here next Tuesday. Eastern now sports a 7-2 record in net competition.

The Panthers played a return match at Millikin yesterday after blanking the Big Blue 7-0 in an earlier match at Eastern. Coach Rex Darling's netters gained revenge for a long series of losses by Washington as they handed the Missouri school an 8-1 shellacking at the library tennis courts last Saturday.

In an earlier match with Indiana State at Terre Haute, the Panthers stopped the Sycamores in six of nine matches. Eastern and Concordia have not met since the Panthers defeated them last season.

Coach Rex Darling's squad blanked the Millikin team in the only night match of the season, allowing the Big Blue not a single set.

Against Washington university, Eastern defeated the St. Louisians for the first time since the series between the two schools. The Missouri school as a tennis power through Midwest for many years manage only one win, a victory in No. 3 doubles. Dick Woodfall and Nolan

The visitors could manage one set win in singles competition.

Lisak to Head WAA; Sport-Heads Named for Next Year's Activities

by Marge Rimshas

Mary Jane Lisak will serve as president of WAA next year, it was announced at the annual WAA banquet last week. Vice-president will be Betty McVaigh, and secretary-treasurer is Ruth Wendling.

The newly elected sportheads for 1957-58 will be Jenny Brosman, archery; Barbara Federman and Kay Baltzell, badminton; Marilyn Miller, baitcasting; Katsy Swinford and Jan Hill, basketball; Paula Neal and Susie Smith, bowling; Sharon Tomlinson, canoeing.

Olive Vanatta, golf; Nan Myers, hockey; Mary Etta Skinner, individual sports; Sharon Dennis, modern dance; Barbara Simon, social dance; Marty Holmes, stunts and tumbling; Ann Harris, tap dance; Merle Spittler and Betty Bertolino, tennis.

Mary Lou Rector and Pat Long, volleyball; Jo DeBois, softball; and Barb Todd, co-rec chairman. Miss Daves and Miss Hart were presented with gifts in appreciation of their help in the last year as sponsors of the organization.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of the senior award by Miss Florence McAfee. In the 25 years of the existence of the association, the honor has been given every year that there is a girl who qualifies because of service to WAA, sportsmanship, and is outstanding in her interest in WAA.

Some years, no award was given, and other years usually one girl would qualify. Only a few times have two girls been honored, and only once in the history of the award has it been given to three.

For the first time in the existence of WAA, the award was given to four girls, these girls being Barbara Christner of Pana, Ellaine Frantz and Lorraine Frantz of Charleston, and Rosie Johnson, also of Charleston.

This only goes to prove something that the physical education seniors have known all along—the class of '57 is just naturally outstanding. After the banquet, a "well-rehearsed and planned" skit was presented by the seniors which recounted many of the experiences they have been through since entering school as freshmen.

Now all that is left is the spring picnic, which is now being planned. This year, the event is under the supervision of Betty "Bert" Bertolino. More will be announced later about the time and place. All WAA'er's are looking forward to the food, fun, and entertainment—mostly food.

Softball Playoffs Highlight IM Play

Six teams are fighting for the four playoff spots in softball intramurals which will conclude this week.

The Blasters and the Ko-op met yesterday with the winner advancing to the playoffs and the loser meeting the Independent Student association for the second place berth.

Both the Blasters and the I.S.A. defeated the Campus Cappers by one run scores last week. The Ko-op reached the semi-finals on a forfeit by the I.S.A.

Sigma Tau Gamma met the Phi Sigs yesterday in the fraternity section for the number one playoff spot. The winner will meet the number two team of the independent league today with the winner advancing to the finals. The loser of the Phi Sig-Sig Tau game will play the Tekes for the other playoff slot.

Phi Sigma Epsilon has defeated the Tekes and Alpha Kappa Lambda, while the Sig Taus beat the Kappa Sigs 20-4. Tau Kappa Epsilon after losing to the Phi Sigs beat the Sig Pi's 27-2.

Golfers must play their second round and turn in their score cards by Friday at four o'clock.

Armstrong Tests Reel on Bass; O'Brien Coaches Record Breakers

by George Barbour

When Winnie Brown set a new record in the 220-yard dash and tied the record in the 100 at the state meet, he added proof to Maynard O'Brien's coaching ability. Since O'Brien came to Eastern in 1946, he has coached trackmen that have set records in all 15 track and field events.

The Kentucky Derby always proves one thing, Calumet Farms is either lucky or pretty sly. When you have your number one horse scratched and your number two horse noses out the rest of the field you can sit back and smile and let people wonder.

Dr. Armstrong of the Social Science department reports the capture of a five pound bass from the college lake. He states he was merely testing out a new rod and reel when the fish became entangled. Having been in his classes all year, I can vouch for his honesty and sincerity. I suppose he later released the fish.

The recent controversy over spit ball pitching instigated by Cincinnati's accusations against Milwaukee's Burdette might bring up the question, what does a spit ball do. Actually it is a fast dropping delivery, dipping more sharply at the plate than does a sinking fast ball. Also it might swerve a little to the right or left, inside or out. It is a first cousin to a knuckle ball.

It might be well to explain how golf scores are arrived at in match play, which is how the conference teams keep score. There are three total points which can be scored in each pairing. It is possible to score by winning either the first or last nine holes each of which are good for one point plus one point for low total. Any tie results in the point being split.

Chuck Behrends of Western led the Panthers to six hits while striking out 11, he didn't give up a walk. Lenn Rudd paced the hitting attack against Eastern in the second game with three hits in five trips including a home run. Bob Heiney hit the only home run for the Panthers in the second game in the eighth inning with the bases empty.

Eastern's ball club has now made 23 errors in their six conference games.

'News' Wins Second Consecutive All-American Rating from ACP

Eastern State News has received its second All-American award in a row and the 15th All-American in the paper's history. The award was made by the Associated Collegiate Press of Minneapolis, Minnesota, a college newspaper service organization.

Russ Herron, a senior from Gillespie, was editor for the period. In rating the News, the ACP remarked that the news sources, treatment of copy, feature writing, and sports writing were especially well done. Editorials and overall makeup were also ranked as 'excellent.'

Mr. G. D. Heibert, a columnist and former city editor for the St. Paul Times, was the judge of the News in the contest. Hiebert gave special credit to the "feature know how" of the staff and also commented, "facts are well-organized and reporting seems thorough."

The general make-up of the paper was commended as was the sports section of which Hiebert said, "I seldom rate this section (sports) so high."

The judges liked Larry Gordon's "Sounding Board" column and Frank Pialorsi's "World News." They remarked, "It is nice

Editor Has Curt Reply to Letter

(ACP)—Oklahoma Daily editor John Campbell printed the following letter from a reader:

Dear Editor:

From your editorials I gather that: 1. You're against compulsory ROTC; 2. You're against the draft; 3. You're against parking meters; 4. You're against campus police; 5. You're against closing the old golf course to spooners; 6. You're against bicycle riders. What a complete hard-head you must be!

Replied the University of Oklahoma editor:

Dear Sir:

From your letter I gather that: 1. You're in favor of coercive volunteering; 2. You like being drafted; 3. You're in favor of picking pockets already empty; 4. Your father is a cop; 5. You're against love; 6. You can't afford a car. You're a hard-head.

IFC Discusses All Greek Picnic

Discussion of the Greek picnic was the main order of business at the meeting of the Interfraternity Council last Tuesday. It was decided that the picnic will be held at the pavilion at Fox Ridge on the afternoon of May 20. Recreation will begin at 4 p.m. and the serving of the food will begin at 5.

Vice president Joe Yeargain appointed George Barbour as chairman of the planning committee to work in conjunction with Donna Van Tassel of the Pan Hellenic Council.

There were several minor changes and clarifications made to the constitution by the group and one section was added to the by-laws which provides for a traveling scholarship trophy. The trophy will be awarded on a quarterly basis to the fraternity which had the highest grade point average the preceding quarter. The group with the highest grade point average for the school year will retain permanent possession of the trophy.

The election of next year's officers of the council will be held at the regular meeting on Tuesday, May 14.

Business Majors Receive Awards At Spring Pi Omega Pi Banquet

STG Honors Lantz; Pat Wheeler Picked Frat Sweetheart

Four graduating seniors and one freshman from the business education department received awards for outstanding achievement at the annual spring banquet of Pi Omega Pi, national business education honor society. The banquet, which also honored the newcomers to the society during the 1956-57 school year, was held at the Salad Bowl in Greenup last night.

Receiving awards were seniors Marvin Gene Newport of Albion, Mrs. Linda Sinclair Murphy of Robinson, Donald Cornelissen of Mattoon, and James Harder of Altamont. Mrs. Betty Biggs of Mattoon received the outstanding freshman award, made annually to the freshman business education major with the highest scholarship average.

Newport was awarded the distinction of being the outstanding business graduate in 1955. The award was made by a vote of the business education faculty and members of Pi Omega Pi. Newport's name will appear on the bronze plaque in the hall of the business education department along with the names of winners in previous years.

Mrs. Murphy won the Smead award, sponsored annually by the Smead company. This award goes to a business graduate who shows greatest promise in the field of teaching and whose interest in further study and professional growth in the field has been demonstrated.

It entitles the holder to a membership in the United Business association together with subscriptions to the periodicals published by the association.

Cornelissen received the Journal of Business Education award, sponsored annually by the publishers of the journal. It entitles the holder to a year's subscription to the journal and an engraved certificate of recognition.

The award is given annually to the senior whose scholarship and interest in further professional study promise success in the field of teaching.

Harder received the Wall Street Journal award, given annually to

Music Department Presents Spring Concert Tomorrow

A spring concert will be presented by the music department under the direction of Dr. George Westcott tomorrow night at 8 in Lantz gym.

Most of the program will be in a contemporary idiom. "Portraits from the Bible" by Wouk will be played. Dr. Westcott says that this is one of the finest things written for concert band in many years.

Michael Ferrari, Mark Gregory, and Russell Woolen will play in a trumpet trio, "Triplets of the Finest" by Henneberg. A drum trio, "Hasketl's Rascals" by Yoder will be played by Barbara Gill, Glen Fair, and Cal Stockman.

The concert will begin with "Italian in Algiers" by Rossini. "Psalm for Band" by Persichetti, "Suite for Concert Band" by Kechlez, "Serenata" by Anderson and a number of marches which consist of the rest of the program.

Sigma Tau Gamma dedicated its annual White Rose ball, held Saturday night at the Charleston Country club, in honor of Dr. Charles Lantz, former sponsor of the fraternity who was recently named to the Helms Foundation Hall of Fame.

The laws that govern plural words I think are strictly for the birds. If goose in plural comes out geese Why are not two of moose then meese? If two of mouse comes out as mice Should not the plural house be hice? If we say he, and his, and him Then why not she, and shis, and shim? No wonder kids flunk out of schools . . .
